

The bolder, brighter Frontier Secure Blog is here!

We're excited to share our great new look at blog.ftrsecure.com. With every visit, you'll discover even more tips to keep you supported, connected and protected at home and work.

CHECK IT OUT >

Trending topics from the blog

Your Mobile Device Might Not be Riddled with Malware After All

After years of news about the escalating mobile malware threat, Google has released its 2014 Android Security Year in Review, an intensely data-driven report intended to bring transparency to the vulnerability of phones running on Android.

READ MORE >

What You've Suspected For Years Is Now Documented; a Significant Number of Teens Really Are 'Constantly' Online

With connectivity often at their fingertips, 92% of teens (ages 13-17) report going online daily.

READ MORE >

Have a question? Just ask our tech expert.

Q: Other than anti-virus software, how can I protect my privacy online?

A: Turn off ad tracking on computers, tablets and phones. Over 100 advertising networks – including Google, Facebook, Yahoo and Microsoft, are collecting detailed information about your web surfing habits. If you don't want to be stalked by ad networks, block advertisers and others from tracking you online. Learn more: 10 Practices of Privacy-Conscious Internet Users >

Submit Your Question

At Frontier, we honor and celebrate members of the military community and their families. We also take pride in supporting the mission of organizations like Honor and Remember®. With your help, we've donated thousands from the sale of our Premium Technical Support product.

Premium Technical Support 12.99/mo

Get unlimited remote, phone support for your devices from U.S.-based experts 24/7.

Learn More >